What did you like about this article? What surprised you?

(I was surprised that ...

I liked how the captain of the Moskva used a creative and calming method, classical music, to help the beluga whales feel safe and follow the ship. It shows the power of thinking outside the box to solve problems.

I was surprised that the whales were initially scared of the ship and that it took many days to guide them to the open ocean. It must have been quite a challenging and delicate operation!
