Question 1: Read the following text then answer the questions: (23 Marks)

If anyone's ever told you that Shakespeare was boring, then you must see Our Comedy of Errors, this year's winner in the short play competition. It's an utterly hilarious version of Shakespeare's comedy, The Comedy of Errors, starring students from Grade 10. 2 The play features all the major scenes, including all the confusions and misunderstandings, the moment when both sets of twins meet and finally when the story is cleared up and the twins celebrate the reunion. All in just ten minutes with only four actors and a few basic props! 3 The set is simple but atmospheric, the lighting is dramatic, the dialogues are sharp and quite witty, and the actors are so talented! Dylan and Frank are totally convincing in their roles as both sets of twins. Charlie and Kyle brilliantly perform all of the other roles. I was amazed to see them play so many parts so well. The boys are particularly impressive as the second set of twins in the scene when all four of them meet up. 4 It has been quite a good competition this year but Our Comedy of Errors is the best play I've seen. It's spectacular and unique. Several spectators said they were surprised that such young students could create such a thoroughly entertaining show. I can't recommend it highly enough. It's on again next Friday. Get your tickets now. It's sure to be a sell-out!
