Linking words

أدوات الربط

-First (أولا) can be an adjective or an adverb and refers to the person or thing that comes before all others in order, time, amount, quality or importance.

أولاً: يمكن أن تستخدم كصفة أو ظرف بحيث تشير إلى الشخص أو الشيء الذي يأتي قبل الأشخاص أو الأشياء الأخرى مثل الوقت أو الصفة أو الأهمية.

-Then(ثم) use to refer to the following person or thing.

تستخدم للإشارة إلى الشخص أو الشيء التالي

-Finally(أخيراً) use to refer to the last thing or the last person.

تستخدم للإشارة إلى الشيء الأخير أو الشخص الأخير

Example: There was a rich man who loved clothes and spent lots of money on them. One day, two thieves decided to trick him. They planned their trick carefully.

“Firstly”, one of the thieves said, “we must convince him that we can make beautiful clothes that only intelligent people can see”.

“Then,” the other said, “we must say that nobody can see us work”.

“Finally,” said the first, “we have to give him his ‘suit’, and make him wear it. We have to make sure that we are miles away when he does ...”

Q1. Read the following passage about Muslim astronomers and their inventions, and then answer all the questions that follow, your answers should be based on the text:

Do you ever wonder how aeroplanes and ships reach their destinations without getting lost? The history of science shows us that it's more than just luck! Astronomers studied the universe for a long time and found ways to map the Earth by looking at the stars. Muslim astronomers, like Al Fazari and Al Khawarizmi, changed the way we understand our planet, and others, like Ibn Al Shatir, showed us how to navigate it. Ibn Al Shatir invented both the magnetic compass and the sundial. These inventions allowed people to find their way to Mecca more easily, and even to know the times for prayer throughout the day. Today, aeroplanes and ships use the compass for navigation.
